How does PIE work?

The goal of this program is for students to engage in project-based and inquiry-led learning opportunities from a Christian perspective. PIE teachers plan, direct, instruct, and assess Language arts, Science, Social Studies, and Applied Design Skills & Technology through a combination of class instruction sessions each week and at-home project work.

PIE families are responsible for completing individual practice and project work sent home between PIE classes. Each week, your PIE teacher will post instructions, videos, assignment details, downloadable resources, and helpful web links to help you work with your child to review and complete assignments. Parent-teacher meetings are offered twice during the year.

Home Learning Support

In addition to your PIE teacher, you and your child will have a Home Learning Support Teacher (HLST) who will recommend resources, mentor you as a home-learning parent, and oversee and assess your child's progress in the subject areas not covered in PIE. (Math, Career Ed, Physical & Health Ed, Arts Ed, and Languages).

Learning that your child does through our Community Clubs or other optional learning activities can be shared with your PIE teacher.

Enjoy interactive classes and a supportive
